Budget crunching

BY BRAD BOWMAN

Henry County Superintendent Tim Abrams wants all students to have the same starting line when it comes to education.

The Henry County Public School Board's budget hasn't changed much from the tentative budget set a few months ago. That budget projects this year's revenue to be down by $711,083.

The three main factors for this decrease: 3.4 percent decrease in state general fund revenue, a 27.9 percent decrease in federal general fund revenue, and a 60 percent in other receipts, according to Abrams.

"The state hasn't cut funding for education, but it can be misleading," Abrams said. "The state general fund is down with a lower base value per pupil. In 2011 and 2012 we received

Bring us Your Old Devices for BYOD

Campbellsburg Elementary Principal Mark Johnson knows many of his students may never travel to the Metropolitan Museum of Art but he hopes with the Bring Your Own Device initiative, they will be able to see the art inside of it.

But he needs a little help.

"We need people to donate their old or unwanted iPods, iPads or iPhones to our students," Johnson said. "We are learning how to use technology in the classroom and I want Campbellsburg Elementary to be the center of it."

Johnson planned to attend a professional development session Friday with educators from UK who will help the school understand what the school needs to jumpstart into the program.

"We had a class where the teacher asked the students what would happen

Henry County residents part of Gen. John Hunt Morgan's Civil War escape

Editor's note: This is the second in a series looking at Henry County's connections to the Civil War.

BY BRAD BOWMAN
Reporter/Photographer

The Civil War divided just as many people in the county as it did in the state and nation. In this second article of a Civil War series, an escape involving two Henry County residents and the famed Confederate rogue officer John Hunt Morgan.

A graduate of Transylvania University, Morgan reached fame after Gen. Braxton Bragg selected Morgan to lead a cavalry division into Kentucky. Bragg's plan for Morgan's rough riders included tormenting the Union supply lines, disrupting railroads and depots.

Morgan would receive instruction and communication between Louisville and Nashville.

Bragg gave Morgan mostly free reign to do as he saw fit but limited him to excursions in Kentucky. Bragg's strategy saw Morgan's diversion as a way to buy his troops time to retreat into Tennessee and gather with forces for a more decisive battle.

According to first hand recollections by Brig. Gen. Basil W. Duke, Morgan decided early on that he had every intention to disobey Bragg's orders to stay within Kentucky.

Morgan relayed to Duke that the state of the Confederate Army's situation called for dis-

Unsung heroes in the county's past

I have recently started on another bit of history in the county that continues to interest me: the Civil War. The farther I look into the history of the county the more intriguing history I find. In last week's edition, I wrote about Capt. I. N. Johnston of Pleasureville. Johnston was one of the officers who was instrumental in carrying out the great escape from Libby Prison. More than 100 people escaped through a tunnel dug in the company of rats that regularly climbed over the freedom seekers as they worked in shifts digging. In this week's issue, I write about the escape of the Confederate Gen. John Hunt Morgan from an Ohio penitentiary. Morgan came across the Kentucky River on a ferry which most likely was either in Monterey or near Ghest. Morgan has always been a famed character for his rogue military actions and the fact that he was so young 39 when he was shot during a Union raid. Morgan's escape back to Confederate lines brought him through the county with the aid of Judge Pryor who lived in the federal mansion on the right side of KY 55 north of the courthouse. Pryor almost deserves his own story. He passed the bar at such a young age, his family is thought to have been influential in getting the law passed that changed the age limit to practice law in Kentucky. Pryor began practicing at 20. He was the son of Samuel Pryor who was a farmer near New Castle and, at one time, a sheriff of the county. Union officers came to his house and were stalled as he escaped eventually to Canada. He sent for his family to join him there. He was later incarcerated in Ohio and President Abraham Lincoln granted him permission to return home and practice law in New Castle. A bust of Pryor sits in the Kentucky Appellate Court chamber. There are many unsung heroes in our county's past and present. Johnston and Pryor are an example of brave Henry Countians that stood by their beliefs despite consequence or division.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Customers very pleased with Cook's

Dear Sirs:

This is in response to a letter to the editor on Sept. 26.

Having been in small business all my working life I have a special affection for it.

We have found Cook's store to be the epitome of small business. Cook's employees have always been courteous and caring — something very special in this fast paced world.

We had our daughter in our home for twelve years after she was diagnosed with a brain tumor. In that period, special life saving medications were needed for her. Cook's was always able to provide these medications, even opening the store after hours, always eager to take care of our needs, and they were many.

As Mayor Stephens noted in his letter last week, change is very difficult to accept. The CVS store coming in will be a change, but I am sure Henry County will welcome it as only Henry County can. We realize that the community needs to move on.

Respectfully,
Carlton and Martha Clark

Kentucky quells housing market crisis

One of the most devastating aspects of the economic crisis that began gripping the country in 2007 was the effect it had on the housing market.

While Kentucky did not experience the widespread declines felt mainly by states along the coasts, we were far from unscathed. According to the state's Administrative Office of the Courts, there have been more than 80,000 foreclosures over the last five years, and tens of thousands more households are just getting by or are "underwater," meaning their mortgage is more than their home is now worth.

Those facing foreclosure are not the only ones affected, either. Experts say these homes can bring down surrounding property values by one or two percent, and the loss of taxes from these homes cuts into government and school budgets. At the same time, abandoned homes are more susceptible to vandalism and thefts of such things as copper wiring.

Earlier this summer, the Kentucky House of Representatives authorized a special task force to take a closer look at this issue and to see what the legislature can do to help. Its membership consists of 14 legislators who understand the issue well and who serve on the House committees that will handle any proposed legislation that would assist in alleviating this situation.

For many affected homeowners, some relief is already underway. Last month, for example, the Attorney General's office announced that notices have gone out to more than 5,000 qualified families who lost their homes between January 2008 and December 2011. They will receive a combined $10.7 million as part of a $25 billion settlement Kentucky and most other states reached early this year with many of the country's largest banks, which had been accused of improper foreclosure procedures.

Qualified homeowners — those who had foreclosed loans or a short sale with Ally/GMAC, Bank of America, Citi Bank, JP Morgan Chase or Wells Fargo — should receive a notice by the middle of this month. If you think you qualify and have not gotten a notice, please call 1-866-430-8358 between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. More information about the settlement can be found at the Attorney General's website: <http://ag.ky.gov/mortgagesettlement/>. The deadline to make a claim is Jan. 18, 2013.

In addition to the $10.7 million going directly to these homeowners, the settlement also provides an additional $48 million for consumer-protection programs and other housing assistance across the state.

Although not tied to housing, another program designed to help Kentuckians who may be having trouble financially was announced by Governor Beshear last week. In this case, it would establish a tax amnesty period to give those who owe back taxes to the state a chance to pay without penalties and with half of the interest. Notices have been mailed to 168,000 taxpayers who have back taxes owed between Dec. 2001 and the end of Sept. 2011; those under criminal investigation, understandably, do not qualify.

The amnesty program is only open this month and next, and those who don't take advantage of it will face much steeper penalties.

This is the third amnesty program the state has offered. The last one, in 2002, netted the state about $40 million from 23,000 taxpayers, but the goal this year is $60 million.

If you think you qualify and would like to know more, please visit the website www.amnesty.ky.gov or call the Dept. of Revenue at 855-KYTAXES (855-598-2937). There are several ways to pay, either in person, by mail, or online.

Should you have any thoughts or questions about these programs or anything else affecting the state, don't hesitate to contact me. My address is Room 366B, Capitol Annex, 702 Capitol Avenue, Frankfort, KY 40601.

You can also leave a message for me or for any legislator at 800-372-7181. For those with a hearing impairment, the number is 800-896-0305.

I hope to hear from you soon.

$3,903 per pupil, now that attendance continues to increase statewide we receive the same money but it's based off of last year's attendance. This year we are receiving $3,833 for 2012 and 2013 which is roughly $70 per day per pupil."

Two other factors decreasing the state general fund: lower end of the year daily attendance rate at Henry County Public Schools. The average daily attendance of 1,970 in 2011 to 2012 compared to 2,004 students in 2010 to 2011 decreases state money. The other factor was a higher property value assessment than what was expected. The higher assessment on local property meant less money from the state. According to a study conducted by School Management Associates in 2011, from 2000 to 2010 the districts population increased by a small amount: 356 people. The growth in the county is below the whole state.

“We were able to cut five teaching positions and an instructional assistant position. These were through attrition we didn't pink slip anyone and these positions will save the district over $200,000. You have to stay on top of your staffing. Many districts who have to let their teachers go not out of attrition will most likely realize they were overstaffed to begin with and it just caught up with them.”

HCPS Superintendent Tim Abrams

Surrounding county districts like Carroll, Gallatin and Trimble had a larger growth in number of children who attended school with Oldham County having the highest growth. The closest in lack of growth was Owen County.

The study also looked at economic health of families with children and used data from the Kentucky Youth Advocates publication Kentucky Kids Count 2010 edition. Children living in poverty in 2000 to 2008 in Henry County reached 33.1 percent compared to 14 percent as whole for the entire state. Gallatin County had the highest at 39.6 percent. The county's poverty rate affects Abrams approach to his students' education.

“I want everyone to be on the same starting line,” Abrams said. “We have a full day of kindergarten and we offer a full day preschool to all eligible students who meet the poverty line criteria. What we are seeing are those kids who go to preschool are exceeding their more affluent fellow students.”

Abrams said the district has made a great financial commitment to early childhood education and it is paying off. Henry County is one of the few districts in the state to offer full day preschool despite being funded for a half day.

“We spend $619, 846 a year for preschool,” Abrams said. “This is the star in our crown. Kindergarten is costing the district about $500,000. If I went back to half day, I would save $200,000. Still it wouldn't be educationally sound. We tighten in our staffing to do this. It's easier to get these kids off with a great educational foundation now in early childhood than later when they are in high school.”

Another initiative to combat the problems students face in high school and middle school is the district's Center for Educational Options program.

The alternative education program provides an alternative for students who had difficulties in the traditional school program.

“Bill Webb runs our alternative education program. I am biased but I think it is one of the best programs in the state,” Abrams said. “We don't sentence our kids to alternative school. Whether it is a discipline problem or grade problem if they are referred by a teacher or parent they get interviewed to see if they truly want to learn and many students who would've otherwise dropped out of school have graduated because of this program.”

Students do some coursework online and are instructed by teachers in a one room school house type setting.

The majority of those students will not leave here, they will stay here and be productive citizens of our community,” Abrams said. “It's an initiative we don't have to do, but it is good for the community and our students. It costs us $200,000 and that is why funding is so important to schools.”

Abrams said despite reductions the district has maintained an unrestricted reserve of $2.2 million, a 12.9 percent contingency, of the 2012 - 2013 working budget. The district will use $525,299 of its reserves.

Abrams said other factors will help the district in the future.

“New Castle Elementary and Henry County High School are Energy Star classified buildings. We constantly stress saving energy in our schools,” Abrams said. “I sent out a notice to remind our schools to unplug appliances during our fall break. The district saved almost $27,000 last year and the board just issued a request for an energy savings contract for more savings in the future.”

In a report, Abrams stressed that the Henry County Board of Education will focus on managing staff as personnel costs make up 81 percent of the general fund budget.

“We were able to cut five teaching positions and an instructional assistant position,” Abrams said. “These were through attrition we didn't pink slip anyone and these positions will save the district over $200,000. You have to stay on top of your staffing. Many districts who have to let their teachers go not out of attrition will most likely realize they were overstaffed to begin with and it just caught up with them.”

if they were stranded in the ocean,” Johnson said. “A little girl pulled out her iPod and told the teacher they couldn't drink the water because she looked up what would happen if you drank the water.”

Johnson said it is the information at their fingertips that will help students learn in a more efficient way within lessons. The elementary school has three computers per room and a computer lab in the library but barely enough time for students to get adequate time on the computers. The Bring Your Own Device program helps negotiate the problem if the elementary has enough devices.

“I am hoping we can become a project base center for this and receive grant money for some devices,” Johnson said. “Right now about 100 donated devices would go a long way for our 328 students.”

Johnson considers this type of learning more engaging and allows students to incorporate many different types of disciplines into a given project.

“Instead of giving them just math problems you give them a project of how to create your own videogame where they will have to use math in games like Angry Birds which would incorporate angles, physics and geometry,” Johnson said. “They will be able to look graphics for history pieces and not wait to get on a computer to do it. They will take several different forms of content and put it together instead just recalling answers. Many of my students many never get to see the art inside the Metropolitan Museum of Art, but this way they can see the art in it and study it.”

would feign an attempt to capture Louisville, which Bragg suggested he should actually do but Morgan didn't think practical, and cross into Indiana.

Morgan planned to terrorize his way east into Ohio bringing paranoia to Cincinnati. Morgan thought this strategy would bring the most fear to the Union Army generals and split their tactics between the three states.

Morgan knew his excursions could ultimately lead to his capture. His capture and imprisonment with Capt. Thomas Hines in an Ohio penitentiary lead him to Henry County.

The Escape

Union Gen. Burnside sent Morgan with 68 of his officers to the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus, Ohio. Hines and Morgan read in the local newspaper the train schedule and found a 1:15 a.m. departure for Cincinnati. Hines had found a tunnel underneath his cell covered by a few inches of cement with an air chamber leading outside. The escape involved many classic elements.

Hines had his sister in Kentucky mail him a book with train fare money hidden in a flap. The hole dug in Hines' cell was covered by a satchel containing his clothes, which was never moved nor inspected. Morgan's brother constructed a linked ladder of bed 'ticking.' Hines paid a convict who was allowed to leave the prison money for a newspaper and six ounces of brandy. In Hines recollection, "...He was quite an old man, called Heavy, had been in the penitentiary for many years, and as he had been so faithful, he was permitted to go on errands for the officials of the city," Hines wrote. "Neither he nor anyone within the prison or on the outside had any intimation of our contemplated escape."

Hines and Morgan contemplated the schedule and found that they couldn't make it to the Canadian border on a train before their escape was discovered. Their only alternative was the train departing for Cincinnati.

After escaping to the train station Hines and Morgan boarded the train for Cincinnati. Hines went to the rear of the train and Morgan took a seat by a Federal major in uniform. Morgan gave the major a drink of Hines' brandy, and the two, according to Hines, became more talkative at that point. When the train passed near the penitentiary's wall, Hines wrote that the major remarked, "...There is where the rebel General Morgan and his officers are put for safe keeping." According to Hines, Morgan remarked, "I hope they will keep him as safe as he is now."

After being delayed for an hour near Dayton, Ohio, the two jumped from the train near Ludlow Ferry on the Ohio River and crossed in a skiff.

With the hour delay at the train station, prison officials who had learned of their escape telegraphed all possible outlets offering a reward for Hines and Morgan and another six Confederates who escaped and went in other directions.

Sympathizers in Northern Kentucky gave the two officers horses and they traveled from Florence with information from a Dr. Dulaney on the safest route for their escape. They spent the night in Union and left Nov. 29th with a guide which led them through Gallatin to Owen where they spent another night near the county line.

The Confederate officers traveled through New Liberty and crossed the Kentucky River at the ferry on the road to New Castle, according to Hines which may have been near Monterey and Gest. On Dec. 1st, Hines wrote that the guide traveled with them as far as the ferry. The two escapees traveled to Pollard's Inn, now on present day US 421, where they arrived at 2 a.m. In Hines account, the two proceeded with caution not knowing the 'politics' of Mr. Pollard.

Pollard led the men into the family room of the inn where the Cincinnati Enquirer rested on the table. Hines deduced that since Pollard took the newspaper it was sufficient evidence that he was a Southern sympathizer. The exchange was written by Hines as follows:

"I see that General Morgan, Hines and other officers escaped from the penitentiary," He responded, "Yes; and you are Captain Hines, are you not?"

I replied "Yes; and what is your name?"

"Pollard," he answered.

"Allow me, then, to introduce General Morgan."

Pollard furnished the fugitives with cattle whips so they could disguise themselves as cattle buyers. The pair didn't want to raise suspicions given the inn was on a busy public highway. The two headed to Judge W. S. Pryor's house, the federal style home sits not far from the courthouse, then considered to be on the outskirts of New Castle. After dinner, Hines wrote the judge rode with them to another guide who, "...conducted us that night to Major Helm's, near Shelbyville, where we remained during the day of the 2nd, and were joined by four of our command in citizen's dress," Hines wrote.

The officers traveled to Taylorsville and then arrived in Bardstown on Dec. 3. Hines and Morgan crossed the Cumberland River into Tennessee near Burkesville.

Hines and Morgan would be separated trying to pass over a mountain region near Kingston, Tennessee when Hines, searching for a guide, was captured by a Union Cavalry unit. Hines escaped and he and Morgan both rejoined Confederate lines by the end of the month.

GROUP CELEBRATES 250TH ANNIVERSARY OF CONSTITUTION'S SIGNING

SUBMITTED

On Sept. 17, members of the Bland Ballard Chapter, NSDAR met, along with community members and elected officials to celebrate the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States.

In an effort to participate with communities all across the United States, the bell of the New Castle United Methodist Church was rung at exactly 4 p.m. to commemorate the signing.

Joining Daughters were Dennis Yearly, James Murray, John Gerding, and pastor of the church David Combs and his wife, Becky. The county government was represented by Peggy Bryant, Assistant County Judge Executive.

The New Castle Methodist Church has in recent years recreated the original belfry and placed the antique bell in the tower. Dennis Yearly informed the group that the bell is from the same manufacturer as the bell in the court house and are rare examples, most bells being removed and melted down at some point in history. David Combs, NCUM pastor, rang the bell by hand at 4 p.m. and the sound and celebration was joyous.

We could take a lesson from bike gang

My cousin Rickie was a born hunter. He was only two years old when he made his first solo hunt. Sometime during the morning, he left home wearing only his diaper and was accompanied by his dad's two hunting dogs. Shortly after he left, he was missed.

His mother, my Aunt Frankie, thinking that he had to be somewhere nearby, called for him.

When he didn't answer, she looked around the yard and then in the tool shed. Not finding him, she walked into the edge of the nearby field. Again she called, "Rickie!" In a panic, she rushed to get her husband, my Uncle Rayvon, from a nearby field.

Within an hour, all our

MICHAEL*duncan*
Pastor, Eminence Baptist Church

family members and neighbors had formed a search party and started walking through the fields and checking a nearby drainage ditch. Morning gave way to afternoon. A local crop duster took to the air, flying again and again over the fields hoping he would spot him. By late afternoon, the searchers regrouped and started methodically working their way back through the rows of soybeans and cotton that surrounded the house.

Near sunset, one of the searchers came running back to house calling for my uncle. "Rayvon, we've found him, but we can't get to him." They couldn't get to him because the two dogs would not allow any stranger to touch their boy. Within minutes, Rickie, carried by his dad, and the dogs were home. It wasn't the last time Rickie would be lost.

Rickie was a hunter all his life. He became an expert marksman, equally deadly with gun or bow. He didn't hunt to kill game. He hunted to kill only the game he would eat. He once intrigued me with an hour-long account of having stalked one particular turkey until the season opened. "On opening day of the season, I crawled on my belly for what seemed like forever until I got the perfect shot," he told me. Smiling, he added, "We ate that turkey."

In early adulthood, Rickie mounted his Harley and road off the farm and joined a motorcycle gang, The Pharaohs, who were in those years notorious in Missouri and Arkansas. Drugs and alcohol became regular parts of his life. While he did eventually come home to resume farming, he never parted company from the Pharaohs. At least one of the Pharaohs was killed for breaking the gang's rules. Some of the others were arrested and imprisoned. Lost as Rickie was in that world, he somehow avoided being arrested and convicted of any major crimes. He never left the gang, though as the members aged their activities became less notorious.

Rickie died Sept. 19 from either an overdose or from bad drugs. It doesn't matter. The lifestyle he adopted claimed his life at the age of 57.

Fifty to 60 of the Pharaohs came to his funeral, mingling with a couple of hundred "normal" mourners. A couple of the Pharaohs participated in the service along with a life-long friend who had become a minster. The Pharaoh's covered his casket with their flag; they pulled his casket to the cemetery on a homemade wagon hitched to a Harley; and after the service ended, they filled his grave. They took care of their own.

My cousin Rickie lost his way; but in his "lostness," he was embraced by a band of brothers who were there for him. The Pharaohs' lifestyle has little to commend it. Their commitment to each other has much to commend it.

The Apostle Paul wrote, "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ" (Galatians 6:2, KJV). From the Pharaohs' care of my cousin, we who bear the name "Christian" should take a lesson.

Why join 4-H? Because it's good for you

October is the month to begin the new program year in 4-H. School clubs in the fourth and fifth grades across the county have started and afterschool as well as project clubs have begun or will begin in the next few weeks. There are so many reasons to join 4-H that I thought I would share a few in hopes that as a youth or as a parent, you may consider joining in the 4-H Youth Revolution of more than 140,000 members strong in the commonwealth of Kentucky.

The following are just a few results of a research based study of youth who actively participate in 4-H and also some reasons why youth and parents should consider getting involved:

- Have higher educational achievement and motivation for future education.

- Are more civically active and make more civic contributions to their communities.

- Have had significantly lower drug, alcohol and cigarette use than their peers.

- They are 2.3 times more likely to exercise and be physically active.

- Girls in 4-H are 1.6 times more likely to pursue science careers over their peers.

All of these are great reasons to join 4-H, but there are many more:

- Youth learn life skills that are beneficial throughout life, such as: cooking, sewing, photography, scrapbooking, crocheting, knitting, woodworking, etc.

- If you are interested in animals we have clubs in: horse, dog, livestock, and a new club forming in rabbits and poultry.

- The shooting sports club is one of the best in achievement in the state and offers the following disciplines: archery, shotgun, muzzleloader, rifle, air pistol, and more.

- Communication events offer students the opportunity to develop public speaking skills at the county, district, and state level.

- The Variety Show allows performing and developing youths talents and interests in performing arts.

- There are opportunities to develop leadership and civic responsibilities through numerous workshops and training.

- 4-H is FUN!

My family is a three-generation 4-H family. My mom joined in Owen County more than 60 years ago. I joined 4-H as a 9-year old, right here in Henry County, and now my own children have benefited and are currently part of a program that has been touching lives for more than 100 years.

I challenge you to check out the new 4-H website at www.henrycounty4-h.com and see all of the possibilities 4-H holds for your family.

Safely store and dispose of prescription medications

The week of Sept. 23-29, The Partnership at Drugfree.org launched the Medicine Abuse Project, a multi-year effort to raise public awareness about and curb prescription drug abuse. Most of us will take a prescription medication at some point in our lives. It's important to remember that medicine to abuse it.

- Keep medicines in a container or box that can be locked. Make sure to put the key in a separate, secure place.

- Always remember to put your medicines back in their storage container after each use. Make sure all medicine bottle caps are secure.

- Sometimes you have leftover medication. One of the safest ways to properly dispose of medication is through take-back programs, which give individuals an opportunity to bring their unused medication to a central location for proper disposal. Here in Henry County Sheriff Danny Cravens runs a Drug Take Back Box program. You can simply put any medications you want to get rid of in a bag and drop by the Sheriff's office (now located in the old Health Department Building in New Castle). Cravens reported that just this week they were able to turn more than 35 pounds of medications to the DEA. Normal hours at the Sheriff's office are Mondays 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Tuesday through Fridays 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. But right now due to the tax season they also have extended hours. Cravens also wanted everyone to know that if for some reason you do not have transportation to get to the Sheriff's office you can gather your old medications up and call them and they will send a Deputy out to pick them up.

In addition here are some guidelines to ensure safe disposal at your home:

- Remove prescriptions from their original container.

- Mix drugs with a substance that would be undesirable to people and animals. Good examples would be cat litter or coffee grounds. If the medication is a liquid, dilute it with water. If the medication is in pill form, crush and dilute it with water.

- Put the mixture into a disposable container or plastic bag, seal and place in the trash.

- Remove or cover all personal information on the prescription bottle before recycling or throwing it away.

For more information about the Medicine Abuse Project is available at www.drugfree.org.

Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

Total knee replacement is intended for use in individuals with joint disease resulting from degenerative, rheumatoid, and post-traumatic arthritis, and for moderate deformity of the knee. As with any surgery, knee replacement surgery has serious risks which include, but are not limited to, blood clots, stroke, heart attack, and death. Implant related risks which may lead to a revision include dislocation, loosening, fracture, nerve damage, heterotopic bone formation (abnormal bone growth in tissue), wear of the implant, metal sensitivity, soft tissue imbalance, osteolysis (localized progressive bone loss), and reaction to particle debris. The information presented is for educational purposes only. Knee implants may not provide the same feel or performance characteristics experienced with a normal healthy joint. Speak to your doctor to decide if joint replacement surgery is appropriate for you. Individual results vary and not all patients will return to the same activity level. The lifetime of any device is limited and depends on several factors like weight and activity level. Your doctor will help counsel you about strategies to potentially prolong the lifetime of the device, including avoiding high-impact activities, such as running, as well as maintaining a healthy weight. Ask your doctor if the GetAroundKnee is right for you. LOCAL STUDENTS OF THE WEEK

Eminence High School
Emily Bryant

Emily is a junior at Eminence High School.

What is your favorite subject?

Math. I like numbers. I also like history. It is interesting to learn about what people did and all things that have happened in the past. I went to George Washington's house and it's really cool to be there and imagine all the things that happened there.

What kind of music do you like?

Country music mostly

What are your plans after high school?

I want to go to college and get my master's. I am not certain yet in what field but maybe accounting.

Where would you like to travel?

I definitely would love to see Italy. I love the food. I would love to see things like the coliseum.

What do you for fun?

I read romance novels like ones from Nicholas Sparks.

What do you want people to know about you?

I work at home on our tobacco and beef farm. I do whatever needs to be done. I work hard in all things that I do.

Henry County High School
Spring Thomas

Spring is a senior Henry County High School.

Favorite subject:

Math. There's always a logical explanation behind the answers unlike a lot of things. With math you can always figure out the answer.

What do you do in your free time for fun?

I like to go hunting and fishing. I have been dove hunting and I have been deer hunting. I love being outdoors. I hate sitting inside and not doing anything except watching TV. My house is right in front of the woods. This year for Christmas I get the choice between a kayak and a shotgun. I hope to get them both; maybe one will be for my birthday.

What kind of music do you listen to?

Country and a little bit of everything but jazz. I like artists like Luke Bryan and Hunter Hayes, Kenny Chesney, and Johnny Cash.

Where would you like to travel?

I would love to go back to New Mexico. It was beautiful there, it's so dry I didn't have any allergy problems while I was there. We went to Roswell to the International U.F.O. Alien Research Museum. We went to a zoo for the first time there and saw wild prairie dogs.

What are your plans after high school?

If I get enough money for scholarships I want to go to Kentucky State University and study early childhood with elementary education.

What do you want to do when you grow up?

I love little kids and I would like to be a teacher where I can be influential and interact with them. I can teach them right from wrong and be a good influence on them while I teach them the basics.

LADY CATS ADVANCE IN DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

Different time. Different place. Same results.

After 90 minutes of soccer action against Carroll County in the 31st district tournament opener Monday night at Owen County, the Henry County Lady Cats found themselves in familiar territory with the Carroll County Lady Panthers.

When the teams first met on Aug. 20, the Lady Cats picked up their first win of the season on a shootout after regulation and two overtime periods.

It happened again in a different location and in a much cooler setting, but the Lady Cats again defeated the Lady Panthers on penalty kicks to advance to the district championship and earn a spot in the regional tournament.

Monday night's game ended tied 1-1 and the Lady Cats won the shootout 3-1.

Goalie Sophie Hughes started the shootout with a successful spot kick to put the pressure on Carroll. Carroll County's Carley Hunter then stepped up and hit a hard shot right at Hughes who made the save.

Midfielder Izabelle Miller then stepped up and slotted the ball in the upper left corner of the goal to give the Cats a 2-0 advantage. After a miss by Carroll County's Alex Skirvin, Rachel Vegh then

Cats fall to LaRue in district opener

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

The Henry County Wildcats fell at home to the LaRue County Hawks 42-15 in the district opener.

Coach Jason Spencer was succinct in his assessment of the game. "We came out flat," he said. "We made way too many mistakes on both offense and defense. We just did not do what we've been coached to do."

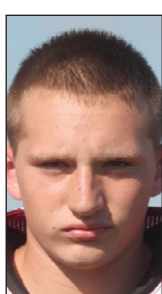

The game opened with a score from the Hawks with 7:41 to go on a 24-yard run. They scored again with :34 seconds to go in the opening stanza and added the PAT to make it 14-0.

Henry County struck back with 6:54 remaining in the 2nd period on a 1-yard touchdown run by Brock Fish. The PAT made it 14-7, but LaRue County added another score with just over a minute remaining in the half. They missed the PAT which made the score 20-7 at the half.

The late score seemed to deflate the Cats and Larue came storming out of the locker room to put the game away. The Hawks scored their 4th touchdown with 5:47 on a 1-yard touchdown run after a long drive. They went for the 2-point conversion and made it to get back the missed PAT from the first half and the score stood at 28-7 going into the third quarter.

LaRue County scored two touchdowns to open the final quarter of play. Both were on long runs. The first was a 25-yarder with 11:30 to play and the second came just one minute later on a 77-yard run to make the score 42-7.

Sophomore bounces back after one bad hole

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

All it took was one bad hole. One bad hole and Mackenzie Peyton's goal of shooting in the 70s for a top-10 finish in the KHSAA state golf tournament was dashed.

On the par-3 11th hole, Peyton shot a 9. But she regained her composure, and finished the round with an 81, which put her in 20th place.

Despite the bad hole, she finished eight spots and eight strokes better than last year, when she shot a two-day total of 168.

Teammate Maddie Hensley also competed in the tournament, shooting a 98 in the first round. That 98, unfortunately, was not enough to make the cut to play in the second round.

"The experience of playing in the state tournament at such a young age can be nothing but positive for Maddie," Coach William Peyton said. "I think she really felt nervous on the first tee Tuesday when they announced her name and school. This was the first time. She has already started talking about playing in some of the summer golf tournaments."

"Both girls played in a steady drizzle all morning on Tuesday,"

EHS opens district with win

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

A balanced offense helped the Eminence Warriors pick up their sixth win of the season, the first in district play, with an 18-12 win over Bracken County on homecoming night.

The Warriors struck first with a 25-yard touch-down pass from Justin Mitchell to Hayden Hoofman to take an early 6-0 lead. It was Hoofman's third touch-down catch in two games. The two-point conversion failed and with 5:51 to go in the game the Warriors had a 6-0 lead.

Neither team could reach the end zone again until Brandon Mitchell made a one-handed, falling backwards grab in the end zone for a 15-yard touchdown reception with 4:06 remaining in the half. The 2-point conversion failed and the Warriors had a 12-0 lead.

But Bracken struck back quickly as the Warriors had a breakdown in the kick-off return coverage and the Polar Bears scored on a long return with 4:06 left in the half.

After Eminence failed to move the ball into the end zone on their next possession, Bracken County drove

On senior night, the Warriors played well with seniors Mesha Cooper and Chelsea Wright in the starting lineup.

In the first game the Warriors were down 3-1, when Wright stepped back to serve. The Warriors won three straight points on Wright's serve to take a 4-3 lead. The game was tight with neither team leading by more than two points until EHS went up 17-14. Finally, at 19-16 the Warriors got an ace from Emily Coomes and then Gailynn Carroll put up one of her patented fake set shots to stretch the lead to 22-16.

PCHS won the serve at 22-17, but Cooper came up with a kill to get the serve back and make the score 23-17. After a tip by Portland Christian, Tiffany down field and scored on a 17-yard touchdown pass with just 26 seconds remaining. The extra-point attempt was good and the Warriors found themselves down at halftime 13-12.

The second half was a defensive battle as both teams moved the ball some but found it difficult to get into scoring position. The lone second-half score came on a Justin Mitchell 3-yard run with 4:45 left in the third quarter. It would be the deciding score as the Warriors locked down the Bracken offense for the remainder of the game.

“We did a good job of stopping their passing game late in the game,” Coach Steve Frommeyer said. “Our defense gave up one long run, one long pass and the special teams gave up one long return, but nothing we couldn’t overcome. We gave up 74 yards passing and 114 yards running for 192 yards. That is not bad against a good team. Ben Smith led us in tackles with 10. That is his best total all season.”

Frommeyer also had praise for his opponents.

“Bracken had 11 seniors and some good young kids,” he said “They are much better than they used to be. They’ve just improved across the board.”

Frommeyer also talked about the balance in his offense. “We strive to be a balanced offensive team,” he said. “The numbers were pretty good but we didn’t finish our drives. There were probably three more drives we should have scored on. Brandon Mitchell had 9 catches for 148 yards and Justin Mitchell was 16-33 for 241 yards with 2 touchdown passes and a rushing touchdown.”

Eminence improved to 6-1 on the season and 1-0 in the district. Bracken County fell to 5-2 on the season and 0-1 in the district. The Warriors host Paris next week in another district matchup.

Thomas had a kill and Cooper served out the first game for the Warriors.

In the second game, the Warriors again fell behind 3-0 to open. But they came back to tie the game at 4-4 with Wright serving. The Warriors went on a 5-0 run on Wright's serve and pulled in front 9-4.

Portland Christian narrowed the margin to 2 points at 10-8 and 14-12, but Thomas took over at the net and delivered a series of kills and blocks that put the game out of reach. Of the last 11 points scored by the Warriors, Thomas accounted for 7 points at the net. The final score was EHS 25, Portland Christian 14.

"The keys to winning this game were that we played our game; we ran our offense and defense very well," Coach Stephanie Barrows said. "We are really going to miss our seniors next year! They are both amazing young ladies that bring a lot of fun and excitement to the team and the game!"

Looking ahead to district play, Barrows said, "I think the team is very determined going into districts! They have a goal in mind and really want to achieve it! Tiffany had a great game at the net. Gailynn did a great job of finding the holes and setting everyone up."

EHS 2 Southern O

The Warriors gave a strong effort against Southern winning 25-12, 25-16.

"The big key to winning this match was staying focused and the girls kept their eyes on their goal for the season," Barrows said.

EHS 3 KCD 2

In a close contest at KCD the Warriors came out victorious by scores of 25-20, 26-28, 25-20, 20-25 and 15-12.

"We still need to work on our defense and serving going into district play," Barrows said.

MUSTANGS WIN WORLD QUALIFYING TOURNAMENT

SUBMITTED

The Mustangs baseball team traveled to Elizabethtown Sept. 15 for a Baseball Players' Association 2013 world-qualifying tournament. The Mustangs won the tournament, winning four games and losing one. On Saturday in pool play, the Mustangs beat a team from Cincinnati 9-0 and lost to a team from Indiana 12-7. Sunday they defeated the South Kentucky Renegades 4-3. The Mustangs then beat the Louisville Fire 9-6 in the second game. In the championship game they played the Indiana Ironmen who had beaten them on Saturday. The game was a close one in which the Mustangs won 5-4. The Mustangs were led in hitting by Jaydon Berry, Bobby Crump and Nicholas Riggins. The leading pitcher was Jaydon Berry who won two games and struck out 19 batters in 11 and 2/3 innings. The Mustangs will get to take a long trip next year by winning this tournament. Next year's tournament will be in Michigan.

he said. “The course was soaked and the greens each seemed to putt different. We have been here two years before and this is the first time they did not get the first round completed. Many players had to come back and finish Wednesday morning. That put quite a hardship on a few people who had to wait to see if they made the cut to play on Wednesday.”

When rounds were completed Wednesday morning, Hensley had missed the cut but Peyton had made it easily. Her first-round 79 put her in a tie for 10th place heading into the final round.

Wednesday couldn’t have been more different for the players as the sun shone brightly all day and a steady breeze made the course fairly dry.

Peyton had reached her goal on Tuesday of shooting in the 70’s despite the rough conditions. Wednesday, she set her sites on another round in the 70’s and a top 10 finish.

Peyton started strong on her first two holes. After making par on the first hole, she hit a great drive and an even better second shot to get within three feet on the par-5 2nd hole. She rolled the short putt in for eagle.

After making bogey on the third hole and par on the 4th hole, Peyton came to the par- 5 5th hole and had a big decision to make. She could hit her driver a long way and risk out of bounds on the right or play it safe with the 3-wood and go for accuracy. She chose to go for it with the driver and even though she easily outdrove her playing partners, the ball sailed out of bounds. She had to take the penalty and hit again. She managed to get the ball on the green but had a long, quick putt for bogey. The putt was dead center, but hard, and the ball hit the back of the cup and bounced out. She had to settle for double-bogey.

She then went par, bogey, par, par to finish out the front 9. Her 9-hole total was 2-over and put her in position to accomplish her goal. She started the back 9 with a par on 10 and then came to the hole that nearly blew her round apart.

It was the short, par-3 11th hole.

Bunkers on each side guarded the green.

Peyton landed in the right bunker on her tee shot. From there the bunkers took a toll.

She ended up with a 9 on the hole and now stood at 8-over with seven holes to play.

Needless to say, the hole was rough for the 15-year old to shake off, but she did just that.

She came back with a par on the next hole to right the ship. After a bogey on the next par-3, she got her focus back, along with her sense of humor.

“On 14 I just said to myself, ‘that’s one bad hole for the year, don’t worry about it,’ then I got to where I was joking about it with (Coach Peyton),” she said.

“Then I was thinking if I blew up in front of Maddie (Hensley, who stayed to watch Peyton’s second round) that would be bad.

I didn’t want to act like that in front of her.”

Peyton played steady for the rest of her round and even dealt with adversity on the final hole of the day. The 18th hole is a par-5 with a narrow landing area. It has a fairway bunker on the right and trees to the left. On Tuesday, Peyton had made double-bogey on it. On Wednesday, her tee shot went right and landed in the bunker.

The look she gave her grandfather and coach was one of fear mixed with bemusement. She took a long time to figure out what she wanted to do and then hit the ball cleanly out of the bunker. But just in front of the bunker some low-hanging branches from a large tree caught her ball and left her short of her normally lengthy 2nd shots. She now had to contend with another tree and if she hoped to make par, she would have to avoid the trees and get on the green. But the ball again brushed the upper limbs and came up short.

On her fourth shot, she chipped it to about 12 feet.

She now had a long putt to save par. Peyton calmly stepped up to the ball and rolled it in to finish the day at 81. It was a remarkable feat considering the emotions that must have been running through her head.

The day after the tournament, after having time to digest the event, Peyton took a positive outlook.

“I felt like I played pretty good,” she said. “I felt like I reached my goal of shooting in the 70’s on the first day. And other than that one bad hole and the last three on day one, I played pretty good, especially putting.”

“I putted awesome and hit the ball well. On the second hole that I eagled, I hit my hybrid club as well as I could hit it.”

And that one hole on Wednesday? “It wasn’t frustration really. It was more like embarrassment because it was at the state tournament,” she said, “It helped to hit a good drive on the next hole and get par.”

Her grandfather, and coach, was proud of the way she bounced back. “Mackenzie did not quite reach her goal of a top 10 finish but she still improved to number 20 from last year,” he said. “160 girls played in the tournament and to reach number 20 is very good. We are very proud of Mackenzie and the way she bounced back from probably one of the worst holes of golf she has ever played.”

With the possibility of two more state tournaments in her future, Peyton will have a chance to erase the memory of that one bad hole. After her performance on the 18th hole, she may just be made of the stuff to do that.

stepped up and hit a screamer off the crossbar and over the goal.

But Lidia Jiminez spot kick also missed for Carroll and Henry looked to be in good position with two kicks left for each team.

Justice Kirk’s kick was high and to the right for the Lady Cats and if Carroll could make the next kick, the pressure would be back on the Cats.

The Lady Panthers’ Teresa Garrett stepped up and nailed her kick and the pressure was squarely on the shoulders of the Lady Cats’ Teressa Deweese.

Deweese stepped up and put the ball in the back of the net and Henry County had the victory.

In the first half, the Lady Cats got off to a flying start as Vegh had a shot that went wide of the target just 1 minute into the game. Vegh got another opportunity in the 14th minute but her shot struck the crossbar and went over.

Henry threatened again in the 15th minute as the Cats won three consecutive corners. The Lady Panthers seemed confused by the Lady Cats’ corner kick set up but the Cats could not take advantage. Carroll finally got a scoring chance in the 22nd minute but Sophie Hughes came through with a nice save to keep the game scoreless. Neither team was able to beat the goalie and the score was 0-0 at the half.

Henry County struck first with 20 minutes gone in the 2nd half when Vegh put in a nice ball off a corner kick that Katie Miller attacked and scored with her body.

The corner kick was promising for the Lady Cats all night and they finally got what looked like the winner in a defensive battle. But with 13 minutes remaining Carroll’s Skirvin scored from about 12 yards out on the left to tie the score. A minute later Micah Lineman had a shot on goal that was saved by the Carroll goalie and regulation would end 11 tense minutes later.

Neither team seriously threatened in overtime setting up the tense finish in which the Lady Cats came out on top.

After the game Coach Brandie Stivers praised her defense for their hard work. “Our defense has worked better and more consistently for the last several games,” she said. “The defenders haven’t changed so they are used to each other. Savannah Adams and Jessica Holcomb are juniors and lead and control the back. Justice Kirk and Hollie Jameson also did an outstanding job.”

Stivers also talked about the corner kick play that got the goal for the Lady Cats. “On the corner we line up in a line outside the box and I tell the girls to pick a spot: one goes to the front, one to the back and one each to the posts. Vegh is a phenomenal kicker of the ball with both feet.”

She also praised midfielder Izzy Miller who has been a welcome addition since returning from injury, saying she “locked down the middle as usual.”

She was also happy with the toughness her team displayed.

“Micah and Teressa and the others, like Vegh, worked through minor injuries to help us win,” she said.

HCHS 1, Jeffersontown 0

The Lady Cats traveled to Jeffersontown on Thursday and came away with a 1-0 win. It was their second win of the season after several recent close defeats.

Teressa Deweese got the game winning goal 21 minutes into the game and the Lady Cats defense took it from there.

“Our girls came out strong and attacked J-town’s goal from the start of the game,” Stivers said. “J-town managed a couple of break-aways toward our goal but were shut down by our ever-impressive goalie, Sophie Hughes. It was a fun and exciting game to watch with the back and forth action, but for the largest part of the game, the Lady Cats dominated the field of play.

The defense did a phenomenal job of shutting down the J-town offense. And the offense worked well together for this game and it showed in that we were able to win the game,” Stivers said. “However, I have to say that the outstanding player of the game was Isabelle Miller. She absolutely owned the mid-field in this game and she made it nearly impossible for the J-town girls to set up any kind of play in the mid-field. She was a trooper and she was all over the J-town midfield.”

Stivers felt that teamwork and communication were a big factor in the victory. “They passed the ball to each other and were able to work the field,” she said. “They also communicated effectively and it showed in that they were able to work so well together during the game. I think that for the first time all year they actually looked like a team.”

Last week, somewhat preciently, Stivers felt the victory, and recent improved form, boded well as the team heads into the post-season. “I am very optimistic about our game Monday night,” she said. “We play Carroll County, who we have already beaten once this year. I think I have a more stable lineup going into this game and feel that our girls have a realistic probability of winning.”

Lady Cats finish regular season on a sour note

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

As they wrapped up the last week of regular season play, the Henry County Lady Cats squared off against two tough opponents.

And those two opponents — Trimble and Franklin Counties — handed the Lady Cats two losses, bringing their regular season to a close at an overall record of 6-24, but a district record of 5-3.

The first game of the Trimble County match started with the teams trading points until the score reached 6-5 in favor of Trimble County. The Raiders took advantage of an 8-3 run to go up 14-8.

Senior Krista Deburger got a kill to make it 14-9, setting off a short run to 18-14. But Trimble went on a 7-0 run to close out the game.

In the second game, Trimble opened an early lead at 5-1. The Lady Cats bounced back briefly and closed the score to 11-9 on the strength of two aces by Kim Barmore, a kill by Deburger and a tip by Destany Crawford.

But the Raiders quickly regained control of the match behind the strong net play of Kelsey Courtney and Paige Black. At 16-12 the Raiders went on an 4-0 run to put the game out of reach for the Lady Cats.

On senior night for the Lady Cats, Franklin

County jumped out to a 4-0 lead and never looked back. The Lady Flyers stretched the lead to 14-6 before going on an 11 point run to finish off the game.

The second game was much more competitive as the Lady Cats bounced back and played Franklin County close. The Cats jumped out to a 9-2 lead as Megan Peyton had 2 blocks and a kill.

But the Lady Flyers went on an 8-1 run to tie the score at 10-10. The game stayed close until the score reached 18-16 in favor of Franklin. From their the Flyers edged out to the 6-point win.

"I think in both matches the teams we played were very good," coach Katie Ruff said. "They had some great hitters, and we were not able to always get a block up or get a dig. Both teams definitely had the height advantage on us, and that always is hard to overcome."

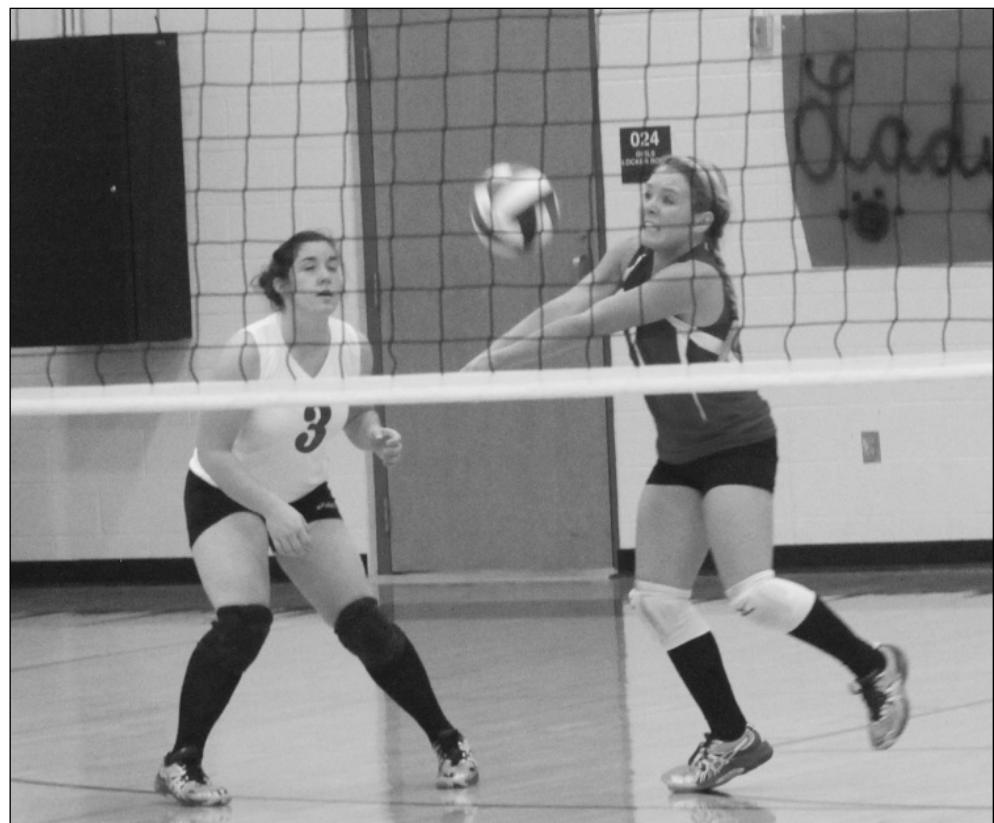

Ruff paid tribute to her seniors, Krista Deburger, Savannah Allgeier and Makenzy Johnson, after the Franklin County game. "All three of the seniors bring something different to our team," she said. "It has been an honor working with them and I am speaking for the entire team and the coaches when I say they will be missed. I would like to wish them luck and success with their future endeavors."

HCHS sets personal records, season best times

BY GREG WOODS

The Henry County Cross Country team competed at the Titan Cross Country Classic on Saturday and found the course to their liking as several runners had personal records or season best times. Sophomore John Bates led the boys' team again this week after shattering his old personal record last week at the tough Capitol View Classic. This week he lowered his personal record by 5 seconds to 19:59. Freshmen Josh Logsdon and Cameron Morgan, and 8th grader Brandon Handley all lowered their personal records significantly.

Cathryn Fischer led the girls' team with 25:15 and Izzy Miller, who got a late start to her season due to an injury, had a season best time of 26:21.

"Our boys pack ran well," coach Victoria Michels said. "They have been running as a pack all season. It was nice to see them run together at a faster time. We are looking forward to running on our home course. The kids are excited to host and run a course they are comfortable with. The Renaissance Run will be the last race of the season for our middle school and elementary runners."

"Our middle school and elementary runners did well Saturday. Lilly was second and Grace and Katherine had solid races. Landon Morgan ran the best we have seen him run all season and Keegan and Isaac both placed in the top 10 in the boys' elementary race."

"John finally broke 20 minutes," coach Ricky Drawbaugh said. "Our other guys are getting faster. I'm glad we are moving in the correct direction. We should see big improvements starting this weekend because we have just started speed workouts."

The girls had a rougher time. Micah (Lineman) and Izzy are sore from playing soccer and running. In the middle school race, Lilly Golden thought it was a 3k race and was winning at the 3k mark and held on for second."

Drawbaugh looks forward to this weekend.

"We are excited to be hosting the 2nd annual Renaissance Run this Saturday. It looks to be a big meet with us hosting region this year. We would love to see people there supporting our kids."

The 2nd Annual Renaissance Run will be held at the Highlands Renaissance Park in Eminence Saturday, Oct. 6, with the girls' elementary race starting at 8:30 a.m. The boys' elementary race follows and then the girls' middle school race starts at 9:30 followed by the boys' middle school race. The high school runners will begin running at 10:45 with a girls' junior varsity race. That race will be followed by the boys' junior varsity race. The girls' varsity race begins at 12:15 p.m. and the boys' varsity race is at 1 p.m.

EHS runners getting stronger

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

The Eminence Warriors cross country team competed last week in three meets. On Oct. 2nd they ran in the NCKC meet at Trimble Co., on the 3rd they competed once again at the Archives course in Frankfort and on Saturday they competed in the Titan Cross Country Classic at Collins High School.

"My middle school girls team is getting stronger every race," Coach Christina Jimison said. "I am extremely proud of them, especially Tavenna West, who really stepped it up, and Madison Doktor who kept her 3rd place finish at Trimble County even though she stepped in a hole right before the finish line. The Middle School girls' team is our strongest team and I think we are building a great foundation for future seasons. They also did pretty well at Frankfort."

As for the Collins meet, the runners were in for a little shock when they got to the meet. "I was missing several runners for the weekend. I think they were definitely taken off-guard, as was I, that the race was changed to a 4k," Jimison said. "None of the coaches I spoke to knew about this change, so the girls were mentally prepared for a shorter race. However, Tavenna West stood out from the starting line. She was very focused and motivated and placed 12th. She told me before the race, 'I'm going to get a medal today' and she did! As for my boy, Sammy Roberts was very courageous to go out there by himself and push it to represent Eminence with his best. I am very proud of them."

Cats fall to Owen; faced Carroll County in district tournament Tuesday night

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

On Oct. 3 the Owen County Rebels came to visit the Wildcats to make up a game that had been postponed due to lightening the previous week. The Rebels came out on top 9-0.

"We had some unfortunate things happen," Coach Bobby Jameson said. "Gavin (Jameson) and Jacob (Buckley) both got hurt and couldn't finish the game. Jacob came out with 20 minutes to go and Gavin with about 10 minutes to go.

"Gavin got hurt 10 minutes into the second half and he tried to play through it but came out with 10 minutes to go. Jacob has a badly sprained shoulder. He also took a shot to the eye earlier in the game and had to come out for treatment because he was bleeding under his eye."

Jameson said it was 5-0 at halftime. "They scored in bunches," Jameson said, "We would hold them for stretches and then they scored in bunches. We played the last 10 minutes with no subs. Besides the injured players we had a couple more people out due to illness or other reasons."

Looking ahead to district play Jameson said, "We face Carroll on Tuesday night at Owen County. I expect it to be a physical game. I expect that we will be aggressive. Carroll seems to bring out the best and worst in us. If we can keep our composure, we can play with them. I expect it will be physical and fast-paced."
